In alignment with an overall commitment to frontline health workers, Johnson & Johnson is proud to continue our 120-year support of the nursing profession by working with our partners to advocate for, elevate and empower all nurses to drive transformative healthcare change by:

- Providing unique, immersive experiences that strengthen the skills of nurses as innovative leaders, and elevate the profession
- Equipping nurses with the educational resources, clinical skill development and leadership training to help them provide quality care and lead as agents of change
- Providing mental health and well-being resources to help nurses better care for themselves so they can care for others
- Fostering health equity through supporting greater diversity in the nursing workforce
- Championing and advocating for professional development, advancement, recognition, and respect for the nursing profession

We believe that if we can help support and empower nurses and other frontline health workers to solve for the healthcare challenges they face every day, we will improve healthcare for everyone.

As the COVID-19 pandemic emerged, the Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies and the Johnson & Johnson Foundation committed $50 million to support frontline health workers. This commitment expanded upon a $250 million multi-year commitment made earlier in 2020, guided by the Johnson & Johnson Center for Health Worker Innovation. Learn more, here.

---

Providing unique, immersive experiences that strengthen the skills of nurses as innovative leaders, and elevate the profession

NurseHack4Health Virtual Hackathon Series

A virtual hackathon series launched by Johnson & Johnson, SONSIEL, Microsoft and dev up where nurses, other healthcare workers, developers and engineers collaborate to problem-solve, and leverage technology to find solutions for the most pressing healthcare challenges. Learn more about hackathons here.

SEE YOU NOW Podcast Series

A five-star rated, inspirational, educational storytelling podcast series brought to you by Johnson & Johnson and the American Nurses Association (ANA), that spotlights nurses who are problem-solving, leading and innovating in healthcare. Listen wherever you get podcasts or at: SeeYouNowPodcast.com.

Johnson & Johnson Nurses Innovate QuickFire Challenge Series

Invites nurses and nursing students worldwide to submit ideas for new devices, health technologies, protocols or treatment approaches that have the power to change human health. Awardees receive up to $100,000 in grant funding and access to mentoring and coaching from experts across the Johnson & Johnson Innovation — JLABS network to bring their ideas to life. Learn more: nursing.jnj.com.

Johnson & Johnson Nurse Innovation Fellowship

Aims to strengthen the leadership and entrepreneurial skills of nurses to amplify and integrate nurse-led innovation in healthcare. Fellows receive individualized coaching and mentoring and complete action learning projects to strengthen their leadership, entrepreneurial and innovation skills. Learn more, here.

Innovation 101 Hub on nursing.jnj.com

Online resource which explores what nurse innovation is and celebrates the legacy of nurse innovators that have improved patient care and health systems throughout history and the world. Learn more, here.

---

Equipping nurses with the educational resources, clinical skill development and leadership training to help them provide quality care and lead as agents of change

Johnson & Johnson Institute

Provides a COVID-19 Community Hub, with a COVID-19 Resource Center in collaboration with Advances in Surgery for HCPs, offers Continuing Education Units and learning modules for registered nurses and allied health professionals in the U.S., and provides mental health learning opportunities and programs. Learn more, here.

COVID Vaccine Facts for Nurses Campaign

ANA is collaborating with other leading nursing organizations to bring science-based, timely and culturally relevant COVID-19 vaccine information to nurses so they can make informed decisions for themselves and support the communities they serve. The campaign is sponsored by Johnson & Johnson. Learn more, here.
Leadership Beyond the Pandemic: A Resource Series for Nurse Leaders

The American Organization for Nursing Leadership (AONL) launched Leadership Beyond the Pandemic, a follow up to its successful Leading Through Crisis series, which provides a deep dive into the care delivery models that nurses innovated or adapted successfully during the pandemic. Supported by an unrestricted educational grant from the Johnson & Johnson Foundation guided by the Johnson & Johnson Center for Health Worker Innovation.

Early Career Nurse & Midwifery Leadership Development Program Pilot

The Johnson & Johnson Foundation alongside the Johnson & Johnson Center for Health Worker Innovation has partnered with Sigma and the American College of Nurse-Midwives on two distinct leadership development programs for nurses and midwives that enhance skills in communication, collaboration, conflict resolution, self-advocacy and resilience. Nurses and midwives within their first 10 years of clinical practice are invited to participate. The 2021 program is currently underway. Nurses interested in signing up for the next cohort should contact Margie Brown at margieb@stti.org. Midwives interested in signing up for the next cohort should e-mail Lakesia Pitts at lpitts@acnm.org.

5B Documentary

An award-winning documentary film, proudly commissioned by Johnson & Johnson, that shares the inspirational story of the courageous nurses and caregivers who took extraordinary action to establish a new standard of care for the patients of the first AIDS ward at San Francisco General Hospital in the early 1980s. Access 5B on streaming platforms or talk to your Johnson & Johnson representative to explore a private screening at your office or institution. Watch trailer here.

Providing mental health and well-being resources to help nurses better care for themselves so they can care for others

Mental Health America

The Johnson & Johnson Foundation guided by the Johnson & Johnson Center for Health Worker Innovation and Mental Health America have teamed up to support the mental health of front line workers by providing a library of free resources.

Osmosis

Osmosis, #FirstRespondersFirst and the Johnson & Johnson Foundation are working to reduce the disproportionate rate of stress and burnout among nurses. This material intends to help nurses develop healthy coping strategies and incorporate realistic changes into daily routines to improve wellbeing. In addition, this free CE course provides 3.75 hours of CE.

Fostering health equity through championing and supporting greater diversity in the nursing workforce

Race to Health Equity

As part of Our Race to Health Equity initiative, Johnson & Johnson has committed $100 million over the next five years to address racial and social injustice as the critical public health issue that it is.

Foundation of the National Student Nurses’ Association (FNSNA) Diversity Scholarships

Johnson & Johnson has partnered with FNSNA to provide needs-based scholarships for diverse nursing students. Learn more, here.

Wharton Nursing Leaders Program

This program provides comprehensive leadership training for nurse directors and executives and qualifies for 25 credit hours of CE by the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN). Offered in partnership with the National Black Nurses Association (NBNA), the course will focus on minority nurse recruitment. Learn more, here.

NBNA Diversity Scholarships

BAND-AID® Brand established a multi-year commitment with the NBNA to provide need-based scholarships for Black nursing students to increase representation in the nursing field and help achieve health equity in diverse communities. Learn more here.

Championing and advocating for professional development, advancement, recognition, and respect for the nursing profession

Accelerating Nursing, Transforming Healthcare

Johnson & Johnson, ANA and AONL embarked on a listening tour to help shape a progressive path forward that will strengthen health systems and lead to increased elevation and recognition for nurses as transformative change agents for health. Learn more, here.

Back the Frontline

#BacktheFrontline is a social campaign launched by the Johnson & Johnson Center for Health Worker Innovation that celebrates and supports the impact of frontline healthcare workers around the world. Learn more, here.

Stay connected!

Sign up for our monthly e-newsletter Notes on Nursing at nursing.jnj.com and follow us @JNJNursing on Facebook, Twitter and YouTube to learn more.